SEPTEMBER 24, 2017
HYMN OF THE WEEK
Lord, Speak to Us, That We May Speak

CARING CONVERSATIONS

Discuss in your home or small group:

- When have you received the benefit of another person's kindness or generosity that you didn't think you deserved? Explain.
- When have you been jealous when someone else received more help or benefits than you did? Explain.
- Read Matthew 20:1-16. Should we be angry if we sense that God is being generous to others? Why or why not?

DEVOTIONS

Read: Jonah 3:10–4:11.

Jonah was called by God to have the people of Nineveh repent. Jonah saw these people as an enemy of Israel and loathsome. He tried to run away from God's calling but was not successful. Jonah knew that God was a merciful and gracious God, “slow to anger, and abounding in steadfast love, and ready to relent from punishing” (4:2b). Jonah preferred to die than to witness God's mercy to Nineveh. Who is a personal or national enemy that you do not want God to show mercy toward? Can you imagine how distasteful it is for God to show kindness in that situation? Pray the following prayer:

Dear God, I thank you for your constant love and mercy for me. Help me to rejoice at your kindness and mercy for others. Amen.

SERVICE

In Jonah and in Matthew 30, we are presented with God's kindness and generosity that goes beyond what seems reasonable or right. They are examples of God's ways being far different than our ways (Isaiah 55:8). Practice kindness that may go beyond your comfort level. Do an act of kindness for someone you do not like or believe deserves your generosity. Reflect on and discuss with someone how that deed made you feel and what it means to have a God who goes beyond what seems right and good.

RITUALS AND TRADITIONS

Throughout the week, prayerfully recite the following verse: “The Lord is gracious and merciful, slow to anger and abounding in steadfast love” (Psalm 145:8).
